

Trainer Guidance: OGD for Sustainable Development

Learning materials provided by the Guide on Open Government Data (OGD) Action Planning for Sustainable Development can be used for sensitization and training of government officials and other OGD actors. This document aims to provide guidance to trainers who will use the learning materials on OGD for sustainable development as a training module on this topic.

Module Overview		Notes
Type	Lecture/presentation	Followed by Q&A moderated by facilitator
Time	10 min presentation plus Q&A	Total 30 to 60 minutes
Target Participants	All groups A to F (see below)	Max 60 participants, tables of 5 to 10
Prerequisites	Non
Materials	Non
Presentation	Slides English	OGD for sustainable development
Further reading	OGDCE Guidelines	Section I - Why opening government data matters

By completing this training module participants will learn about:

- The social, economic and environmental benefits of OGD
- Better data for tracking sustainable development progress
- A data revolution for sustainable development
- Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and OGD

Guiding Questions

By completing this module participants will be able to answer the following guiding questions:

- What is sustainable development?
- What are the Sustainable Development Goals?
- Why improving availability of high-quality data is important for sustainable development?
- How can data be used to support the achievement of the sustainable development goals?

Expected outputs

Participants will be able to:

- Explain in their own words the meaning of sustainable development and the SDGs
- Explain in their own words why OGD is important for sustainable development
- Explain in their own words how OGD can be used to support the achievement of the sustainable development goals

Methodology

This module will be conducted by an expert on OGD for Sustainable Development. The expert will introduce the module and provide an overview on learning objectives, materials to use, expected outcomes. The expert will then deliver a 10 minute presentation on the subject. The presentation will be followed by a Q&A session moderated by a dedicated facilitator.

Target Participants

- Government leaders (top-level, policy/decision makers)
- Government specialists and technicians (mid-level, ICT department, statistical officers)
- Civil Society Organizations (CSO) representatives
- Independent journalists and representatives from media organizations
- Academia (public administration, informatics, statistics)
- Private Sector (ICT companies and startups)